Hi, Walter is my name and being lazy is my game!

I'm a 6-year-old male English bulldog. I have the biggest feet and I love using them to paw at you with love and affection. I'm a lovable attention hog that loves to cuddle but I'm not sure about furniture yet. I'm still a bit wobbly on the couch. I can also be independent and just put myself down for a nap, so you don't have worry much about me.

My favorite activities include sleeping, stretching out on the floor, being rubbed all over, eating (of course!), walks, and car rides.

My previous owners were unable to provide me proper medical care, so I will soon be undergoing surgery for my cherry eye and a neuter. I am also currently on medicine for my dry eyes and skin allergies.

I love people, both big and small, and I get along well with other four legged foster siblings. I haven't been exposed to cats in my foster home, so my ability to cohabitate with felines is still unknown. Overall, I'm just a big baby!

Once I say goodbye to my baby makers and get my skin looking good, I'll be ready for the perfect lovable family! Perhaps it is you.
