

Indiana Bulldog Rescue Inc. Adoption Contract

Preamble: Bulldogs are typically affectionate and friendly, and Indiana Bulldog Rescue, Inc. will not knowingly place a dog with an unsound temperament. However, no one can predict how any dog will react in a given situation without full knowledge of its life experiences before rescue. Consequently, a rescued dog may exhibit behavioral issues, therefore, adopters are strongly urged to exercise prudence and caution in introducing an adopted bulldog into new situations until it has become fully adjusted to its new environment and the adopter has had an opportunity to become familiar with the dog's unique personality. The Indiana Bulldog Rescue makes no claims, representations, or warranties regarding the temperament, behavior, or future health of any rescued bulldog.

The Bulldog is not a working or sporting dog. It is bred solely for companionship. Although it loves a daily walk with human companionship, the Bulldog's physical structure (i.e., compact body, short legs and brachycephalic features) make it unsuitable for living outdoors or rigorous exercise like jogging. An adoptive home should have a fenced yard for exercise. If this is not possible, the dog must be exercised on a leash. An Indiana Bulldog Rescue volunteer will visit the prospective adoptive home to evaluate it for rescue dog placement.

UNCONDITIONALLY, THE INDIANA BULLDOG RESCUE RETAINS THE RIGHT OF FIRST REFUSAL. If, for any reason, the adopter cannot keep the rescued dog, he/she will contact the Indiana Bulldog Rescue for possible repossession and further action. You agree to give us reasonable time to find the dog another foster home and understand that this may take a few weeks. If the adopter suggests a possible placement, that prospect must complete an application and be approved by the Indiana Bulldog Rescue. Indiana Bulldog Rescue and its volunteers act only to reduce, as much as possible, the trauma of repeated moves. Primary responsibility is to the rescued Bulldog throughout its lifetime. You agree that you may never surrender the Dog to an animal shelter or any pet organization which euthanizes surplus pets. You agree that you may not euthanize the Dog except in the case of the Dog's terminal illness, injury, or old age accompanied by pain and suffering. The euthanasia must be performed by a licensed veterinarian in a private clinic or hospital.

The Indiana Bulldog Rescue carries insurance for damage or loss involving rescued Bulldogs while under its care. This insurance does not cover the adopter once ownership has been transferred. The Indiana Bulldog Rescue strongly recommends that new owners of any dogs consider obtaining appropriate insurance coverage for themselves.

Providers of homeowners' insurance can explain the requirements and costs of such protection. (Bulldogs, of course, are not classified, by their nature, as "dangerous" or "aggressive". A more appropriate classification is "companion" or "couch potato".)
